ABOUT ME

Beginning in January 2022, I embarked on an intensive journey to enhance my programming expertise, placing a strong emphasis on front-end technologies including HTML, CSS, SCSS, JavaScript, and React. My enthusiasm for website creation is complemented by a foundational understanding of User Experience (UX), enabling me to construct interfaces that are not only visually appealing but also intuitive and user-centric.

I pride myself on being adaptable to various working conditions, proficient in both remote and in-office settings, and am willing to relocate to align with the evolving demands of the IT industry and personal professional advancement.
